

Greg, the Satellite TV answer guy

Quick Tip: “FREE VERSUS”. DN is showing Versus channel (Hockey, etc.) on channel 151 “free” through December 2nd? DirecTV has dropped Versus pending negotiations.

Q: John (Troy) - I have an HD roof antenna. Can I record local channels with my DVR?

A: Scan the local channels within your satellite box, and then you can record two satellite channels and the TV antenna channel simultaneously.

Q: Amy (Waterloo) - I have DishNetwork and my HD local channels 2 and 5 are intermittent.

A: You probably have a 1000-plus dish. DishNetwork uses a low power satellite for HD locals. Extra care is taken in the installation to tune the 118.7 satellite. Check signal level on transponder 10 and 18 on satellite 118.7. Press the remote “Menu-6-1-1”. Look for a 40% to 50% signal level.

Q: Don (Des Peres) - How many satellite TVs can I connect?

A: DishNetwork allows 6-boxes and DTV allows 20 boxes per account. Either allows up to 4 leased boxes at the initial hook-up. You can mirror an unlimited number of TVs to a box, but they would all be on the same channel.
